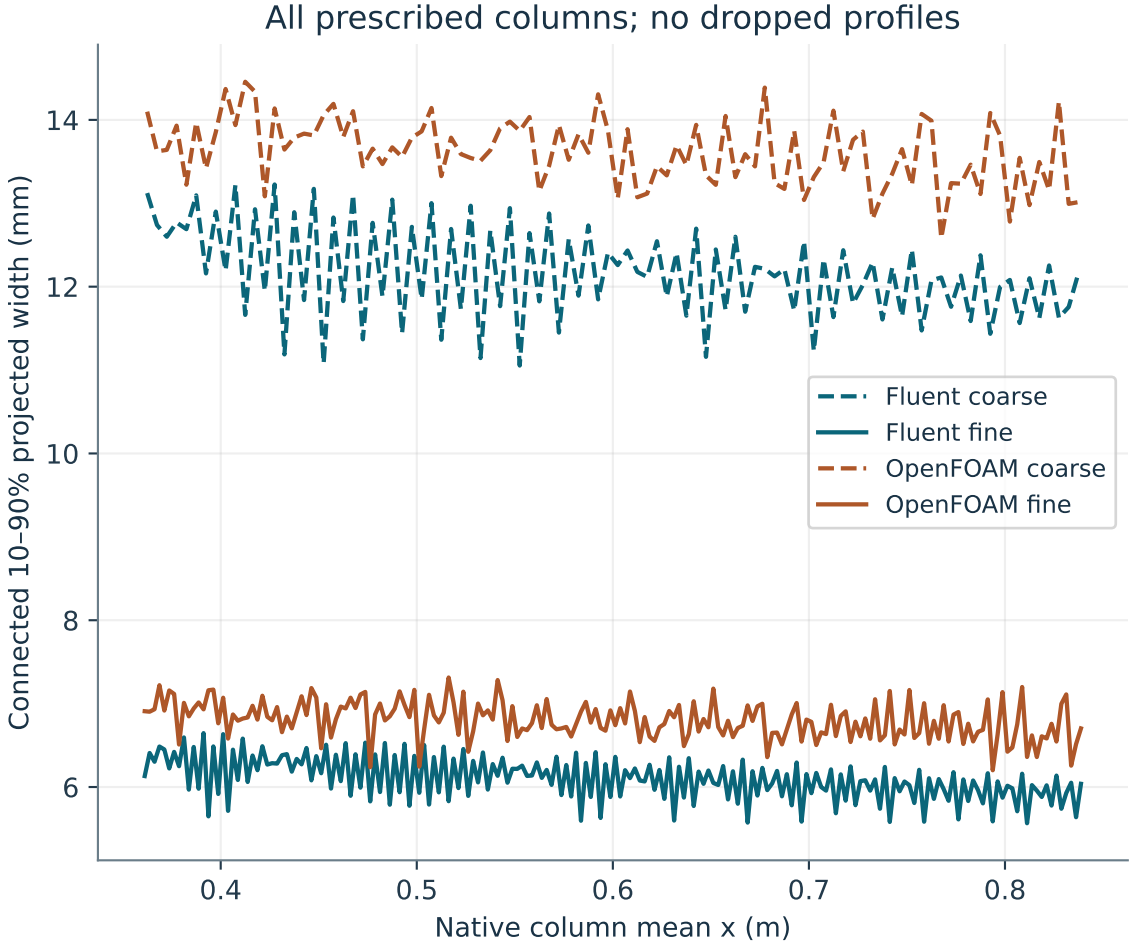
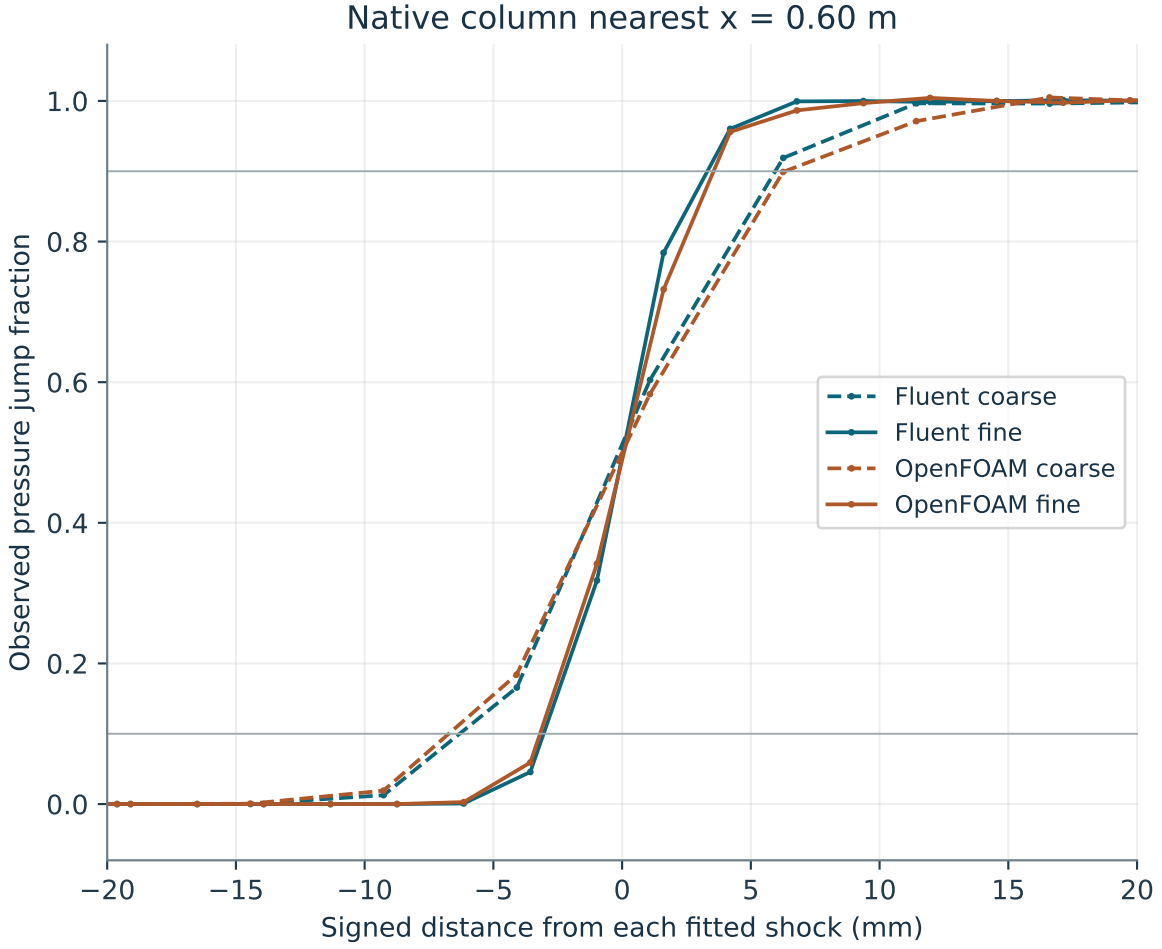
Measuring numerical shock sharpness





Linear interpolation between native centres. Profile distance is relative to each case’s own fitted line. Not molecular shock thickness.